—News is what a newspaper editor wants to make his paper newsy. There are lots of people whom our editorial news gatherer cannot reach every day, who know of lots of things that other people would like to know. Our telephone number is No. 5, and our office editor has his desk within easy reach of the phone, and would be pleased to answer all calls that mean news. If you hear of any happenings, though they may be of little interest to you, they may be of more interest to some one else. Make a mental note of it, and as soon as you come within access of a telephone, call up No. 5, and you will confer a favor on the editor. First give your name, then tell your item of news in your own way and it will be burnished and properly set to show off its true brilliancy among the cluster of similar sparkling productions that each evening shed a halo of intellectual light over the community. Pass in your nuggets of news, please.

A College Entertainment.

The students of the College who attended the elocutionary and musical entertainment in the Chapel last night enjoyed a rare treat The music and impersonations were, for the most part, new and very interesting. The programme consisted of a piano solo by F. J. Buckingham; a humorous recitation, by W. J. Lumly; song by a male quartette, Messrs. Buckingham, Miller, Beattie, and Green; a banjo-mandolin and guitar duet, J. E Maynard and W. Montgomery; recitation, W. D. Haladay; Irish impersonation, T. J. Hughes; selection, Dixon Mandolin Club; recitation Mr. Cassel duet, J. E. Maynard and W. Montgomery; Irish song and dance, T J. Hughes; imitation of a brass band, J. E. Maynard; recitation, W. J. Lumly; vocal solo, F. J. Buckingham; music by the Mandolin Club. Every number of the program was well executed, but the most taking features of the entertainment were the playing of Mr. Maynard and the Dixon Mandolin Club. The former is a musician of great ability, brought to this city by the EVENING TELEGRAPH. He plays the banjo-mandolin, and last night was enthusiastically encored, his imitation of a brass band and banjo oddities being splendid. The Mandolin Club, as re-organized, contains the following members: Geo. W. Dement, J. E. Maynard, E. E. Hills, Frank Rosbrook and George S. Dodge. Their rendition of "Mary Green" brought down the house and we are confident that they will make a great hit in our home talent minstrel entertainment next month. Last night's programme was arranged by W. J. Lumly and I. S. Banks.

Cleveland's Opportunities.

New York Tribune: He goes to Washing with an opportunity not less remarkable than the manner in which it came to him. The unwritten law renders him superior to all temptations which beset a President in his first term. So far as any Chief Magistrate can be, he is without personal obligations. At his back is the good will of the nation, which thinks he means well, desires his success and its own advantage, and cares little for the small ambitions and pretty motives of those politicians whose patriotism is bounded by self-interest. He has really no oracle to consult but his oath of office, no master to mind but his sense of duty. Other men, greater in worth and lesser in fortune, have created the policies of which he appears as the exponent, have battled for them, and fallen for them. He has the advantage of their labors. Mr. Cleveland is to be congratulated. It is no wonder that he takes on an arbitrary manner and declares his plans as if he were the state. Fortune never lent herself so generously to the pleasing game of self deception. Abilities so moderate never had a cleverer auctioneer or a more willing group of bidders. But that they will be employed in all sincerity to the public good, as Mr. Cleveland sees it, is not to be doubted. No man, not wholly dull or base, could stand in the presence of such opportunity and want the motive to improve it.

—The river this morning was clear of ice as far as the eye could see from any point in this city. The ice from above the dam went out during the night and the water rose quite rapidly; but early in the forenoon gradually subsided, indicating that the gorge below the city had broken loose. This, however, was only the vanguard of the advancing force, which made its appearance about ten o'clock and continued to flow over the dam at intervals, the rest of the day. From ten o'clock the water continued to rise for several hours at the rate of about one foot per hour. It was a grand sight, witnessed by a great many people from the bridge—the great ice-fields of several acres, as they came floating down toward the dam, over which they plunged in broken fragments, dashing the water in jets and spray fully twenty feet into the air. Then the hugh blocks of clear blue ice came floating on, with apparent irresistable force, till some of them striking the steel-clad piers of the bridge were with a loud report split into smaller fragments and proceeded jostling each other, on their way to the mighty Mississippi. News from up the river this morning stated that the ice at Beloit and Rockton broke loose yesterday and moved slowly out. It had not reached Rockford last night, and the people of that city feared a gorge when it should arrive, and additional trouble was anticipated when the Pecatonica should open up. If this weather continues, however, the indications are that the river will clear itself this spring without overflowing its banks, except in very low places, and we do not anticipate any trouble in Dixon.

—Fifty-two years is a long time to continue in one occupation; yet we occasionally find a man who has not grown rich in the calling which in his youth he had chosen for his life work, and so he keeps on the even tenor of his way. This is very much the case with S. G. Campbell, who may not inappropriately be termed "the village blacksmith." Fifty-two years ago today he first entered the forge of the reigning Vulcan of Westfield, Mass., as an apprentice, where his first duty was to play on that important wind instrument, the blacksmith's bellows. After becoming proficient in that accomplishment he was advanced to a higher department among those who give forth the musical rythm of New England industries, and allowed to take part in the anvil chorus. Here he learned to make the sparks fly beneath vigorous strokes of his hammer; and here when the day's work was done he dropped his leathern apron, donned a more seemly attire and like a young Adonis sent other sparks flying from the presence of his chosen Venus. Five generations of Campbells had made their home in Westfield, which it would seem was quite a field for Campbells; but this young Campbell broke away from Westfield and came west to seek another field, and like so many others, was charmed with the beauty of Dixon, and drove his stakes here, and became permanently welded to the interests of our city and surrounding country to which he has proven true as the steel which he manipulates so well. Three generations of Campbells are now enumerated in our census tables; may their tribe increase.

Why? Why is Strictly Pure White Lead the best paint? Because it will outlast all other paints, give a handsomer finish, better protection to the wood, and the first cost will be less.

If Barytes and other adulterants of white lead are "just as good" as Strictly Pure White Lead, why are all the adulterated white leads always branded Pure, or

"Strictly Pure White Lead?"

This Barytes is a heavy white powder (ground stone), having the appearance of white lead, worthless as a paint, costing only about a cent a pound, and is only used to cheapen the mixture. What shoddy is to cloth, Barytes is to paint. Be careful to use only old and standard brands of white lead.

"Southern" "Red Seal" "Collier" "Shipman" are strictly pure, "Old Dutch" process brands, established by a lifetime of use.

For colors use National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors with Strictly Pure White Lead.

For sale by the most reliable dealers in paints everywhere.

If you are going to paint, it will pay you to send to us for a book containing information that may save you many a dollar; it will only cost you a postal card to do so.

SIGNIFICANT CALL.

Senator Hill Spends Twenty Minutes with Cleveland.

ANOTHER OCCURRENCE OF MOMENT.

The Hawaiian Treaty Withdrawn from the Senate—Speculation as to the Meaning Thereof—One of the President's Alleged Rules Confirmed—Bissell Makes an Important Announcement—"Gill" Shanklin Utters a Vain Protest—First Batch of Nominations—Gray Gets the Mexican Mission.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—There were two surprises emanating from the White House yesterday. One was the president's first executive communication to the senate and the other was Senator Hill's visit to the president. In the communication Cleveland withdrew the treaty with Hawaii which was sent to the senate a few weeks ago by Harrison. The message was short and to the point, the president simply requesting the senate to transmit to the executive the proposed treaty with Hawaii. The message was received without comment on the floor of the senate, although the Republicans were prone to criticize the proceeding with considerable emphasis among themselves. The Republican senators regard this action of the president as in line with the course pursued by Cleveland in withdrawing the Nicaraguan treaty sent to the senate by Arthur in the closing days of his administration.

Why the Treaty Is Withdrawn.

Democratic senators look upon the act from a two-fold point of view, some taking the ground that it shows Cleveland to be against annexation or American domination of any soil in the Hawaiian islands, while others hold that he will send in another treaty more to his liking. It is understood that the reason for the withdrawal of the treaty by Cleveland is because he is opposed to the treaty in its present form. Whether or not he will favor the making of another treaty, and whether it will be an annexation treaty or not, cannot be said on authority at this time, but a gentleman who has talked with the president on the subject said yesterday that another treaty would be made. It is intimated that the president will suggest either by messsage or personally to senators that a commission be appointed to visit the Hawaiian islands this year during the interval between the adjournment of the special session of the senate and the reconvening of the next congress.

The Wiseacres Much Exercised.

But the event of the day that exercised the political wiseacres and made them ask, "What does it mean?" was the visit to the president of Senator David B. Hill. He went early. The great flood of officeseekers had not begun to flow into the White House when he arrived. He passed rapidly through the hallway in the public part of the mansion into the room of Private Secretary Thurber, who evidently had been posted, for he ushered Hill into the adjoining executive office without a moment's delay. When Hill entered the president's room word was sent to Doorkeeper Loeffer that Cleveland was very busily engaged and could not see any visitors for some time. As a consequence the arriving delegations soon filled the cabinet room and by the time Hill left the White House there were more men than seats in the apartment.

Not That Kind of Call.

The interview was, of course, of a strictly private character, but from the fact that it had been previously arranged and from its length there can be little doubt that it was of more than a mere official-social character. Hill, by virtue of his office as a senator from the state of New York, would be obliged by the unwritten code of official etiquette to call on a new president elected by his party unless the personal relations between the two were of such a character as to make a personal visit seem like hypocrisy. But an official visit of this character would not last more than a minute—in fact just long enough for the caller to shake the president's hand and to make a few pleasant remarks about the condition of the thermometer, or to say that the call was simply for the purpose of paying respects.

Twenty Minutes of Precious Time.

Twenty minutes is an unusual length of time for a caller—no matter how distinguished—to remain in the president's room during these busy days in the executive mansion, and if Hill and Cleveland talked airy nothings for a third of an hour while a crowd of patriotic citizens were waiting to be heard they were particular that none of their remarks was overheard.

CALLERS AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

The President Confirms a Reported Rule Relating to Appointments.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Representative Springer, of Illinois, who was one of the president's callers yesterday, asked him if the rule of not appointing men who had held office under him four years ago was to prevail as reported. The president replied in the affirmative, and when asked if the rule was inflexible Cleveland responded that it would be so substantially; there might be exceptionald an extraordinary circumstances which might cause some departure from it, but he could not call to mind any possibilities to justify a change from the policy decided upon. Springer asked if the rule was also to apply to fourth-class postoffices. Cleveland's response was that he had not thought about that, but he gave the decided impression that it would prevail to as great an extent as possible with these small postmasterships.

Bissell Has Another Rule.

Postmaster General Bissell is accredited with the announcement that no local business men need apply for postoffices under his administration. He objects to commissioning local business men as postmasters for the reason that the actual duties are performed by irresponsible and often incompetent clerks and substitutes. Postmasters under Bissell must promise to devote their entire time to the work and personally keep strict office hours.

Among the callers at the state department yesterday afternoon was Vice President Stevenson, who remained closeted with Secretary Gresham for some time.

"Gill" Shanklin Lacks Influence.

The host of men who are willing to serve their country is still besieging the White House, and will be for many days. Some of the visitors, however, are not present so much to ask something for themselves as that somebody else shall not get a certain fat place. Such was the mission yesterday of Editor "Gill" Shanklin, of the Evansville (Ind.) Courier, who called on the president to enter a protest against the nomination o ex-Governor Gray for the Mexican mission. As Gray's name was sent to the senate yesterday Shanklin went away dissatisfied with the result of his interview. L. T. Neal, of Ohio, who killed the Cleveland tariff plank at Chicago, and moved the adoption of the "revenue-only" plank, called, it is understood, to secure the administration's influence in Ohio politics.

Some Callers From the West.

In tow of this or that senator or representative, citizens of many states went to the White House yesterday. Illinois was represented by General McClernand and Dr. E. S. Fowler. Both are looking out for places, Fowler preferring a consul generalship or the mission to Brussels. John F. Hamilton and F. E. White, of Iowa were callers with ex-Representative Butler, who would not refuse the position of chief of the railway service. The other two said they are not asking for favors. There were many other callers, too many in fact to take note of. At 12 o'clock the president did his daily "stint" of hand-shaking in the east room.

FIRST GRIST FROM THE MILL.

Some Citizens Who Are in Luck, Ex-Gov. Gray Being One.

The official mill began to grind yesterday and the following names fell out: Josiah Quincy, of Massachusetts, to be assistant secretary of state; Robert A. Maxwell, of New York, to be fourth assistant postmaster general; Isaac P. Gray, of Indiana, to be envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of the United States to Mexico; Patrick A. Collins, of Massachnsetts, to be consul general of the United States at London; F. P. Gale, of New Mexico, to be receiver of public moneys at Rosswell, N. M.

And He Is an Ohio Man.

They were sent to the senate, where they will repose until Gorman and his colleagues of the reorganization committee can report sufficient progress to enable the nominations to be referred to the proper committees. About the best thing in the list is that given to Isaac Pusey Gray, and he, according to the eternal fitness of things, is a native of Ohio. He was a Republican until in 1872 when he joined the Greeley followers. In 1876 he was nominated for lieutenant governor of Indiana by the Democrats as a representative of the Greeley followers on the same ticket with "Blue Jeans" Williams and was elected. Towards the close of his administration Governor Williams died and Gray assumed the duties of the governor of the state. In 1880 he was a candidate for the nomination for governor, but was defeated by Frank Landers, of Indianapolis, and was put upon the ticket with him for the second place.

ISAAC P. GRAY.

A Very Nice Place for Collins.

This ticket was defeated by one headed by Albert G. Porter, late minister to Italy. Four years later Gray was nominated for governor by the Democrats, and was elected, and would have been renominated for a second term but for the fact that the constitution of Indiana prohibited a governor from filling two terms in succession.

Patrick Collins, who gets the consul-generalship at London, has a very good job, which is a gold mine as to receipts, but costs a good deal to run.

Can Draw on the Reserve.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Some time ago Solicitor General Aldrich was asked for an opinion as to whether the $100,000,000 gold reserve was sacred and not to be drawn upon except to redeem legal tenders. He prepased an opinion, but it was not delivered, as the occasion did not demand it. A synopsis of the opinion is given by Aldrich as follows: "The belief that there is no positive provision of the law requiring that a $100,000,000 reserve shall be kept is in my opinion correct. It is also true under the law, as I understand it, that all legal tender notes may be redeemed in 'coin.' This was the case at the period fixed for the resumption of specie payments, to wit, Jan. 1, 1879, under the law of 1875."

Summary of Senate Doings.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The senate yesterday discussed for nearly an hour the question as to the reception at the present extraordinary session of any business of a legislative character. There seemed to be a general concurrence of views that it would not be desirable to have any matters of that kind acted upon or even presented. Nevertheless a resolution offered formulating that sentiment was not acted upon, but went over until the next meeting of the senate, which will be on Monday.

Been Tipping the Natives?

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Rear Admiral George Brown, who returned a few months ago from a three years cruise in the Pacific, has been ordered to remain in Washington for consultation with the secretary of the navy and the secretary of state respecting Hawaiian affairs. He is the only person, aside from members of the royal family and high chiefs under the old regime, upon whom the Hawaiians have conferred the honor of "Hookupu," the giver of presents.

Will Not Issue Bonds.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—It was quite plainly intimated at the treasury department yesterday that as between the issue of bonds and the use of a portion of the $100,000,000 gold reserve, if necessary to maintain the parity of gold and silver, Secretary Carlisle will resort to the latter plan, but that he does not anticipate that the necessity will arise to do so.

Diplomats Introduced to Gresham.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The monotony of the day at the state department was broken at noon by the reception of the members of the diplomatic corps by Secretary Gresham. The ceremony took place in the diplomatic parlor. The members of the Hawaiian annexation commission were included in the list of invitations.

A Reception to Stevenson.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Senator McPherson has issued invitations to the members of the senate and other well-known public men to meet at his residence the new vice-president Wednesday evening, March 15, between 9 and 12 p. m.

Convict Shot by a Guard.

CANON CITY, Colo., March 10.—Two convicts named Wilson and Brown attempted to escape from a gang working on the state ditch yesterday, and Wilson was probably fatally wounded by a guard.

Two Men Drowned.

HINCKLEY, Ills., March 10.—Henry Binder and Hans Carlson were drowned here yesterday in the swollen creek. Both men fell from a cake of ice.

CONCEDE NOTHING.

Chicago Railway Managers Reply to the Switchmen.

DEMANDS UNANIMOUSLY REJECTED

And a Strike to Be Resisted with Equal Unanimity—The Roads Establish Employment Agencies East and Prepare for a Struggle—A Lockout to Follow a Strike—The Ann Arbor Tie-Up—Men Not Responsible for That Wreck—World's Fair Troubles.

CHICAGO, March 10.—Without a dissenting vote the general managers of the railroads entering Chicago determined at their meeting yesterday afternoon to refuse any demands of the Switchmen's Mutual Aid association. An answer was sent to the switchmen by the general managers of the thirty-two roads centering in Chicago declining to grant any increase over the present schedule of rates and inclosing the following resolution, which was passed unanimously at the meeting: "Resolved, That this association has carefully examined the schedule of wages paid by the Chicago roads to foremen and helpers in switching service and that it finds that the scale of wages paid on the Chicago lines is practically uniform.

The Wages High, Revenue Low.

"And we find that the switchmen of Chicago and vicinity are paid the highest rate ever paid for a similar service, and higher than is paid in many localities. Further, that the revenue from freight and passenger traffic has constantly decreased and the cost of the service has constantly increased to the extent that no advance in wages can be granted, and that no change can be made from the present schedules or rules affecting the compensation of men engaged in this service."

This answer was sent to the officers of the Switchmen's association yesterday afternoon. The switchmen have not yet determined what course they will pursue, and officers of the association decline to discuss the situation.

Will Be a Struggle of Giants.

If they should decide to strike the fight against them would be a bitter one, as the general managers of the thirty-two roads have determined to act as a unit and fight the men as one road. A still more significant determination reached by the general managers is an agreement to discharge all union men on their lines in case the roads should be crippled by a strike of switchmen. This will apply to engineers, conductors, firemen and in fact all branches of organized railroad labor. The general managers say that they will not pay union men for doing nothing when their idleness is enforced by strikers to whom they are giving aid and comfort.

Preparing for a Possible Fight.

In the event of a general dismissal of union men the vacancies are to be filled as rapidly as possible with non-union men, the road to act in concert in securing new men and to distribute them according to the needs of the individual roads. A telegram from Baltimore says that an agent of the combined Chicago railways is there authorized to employ as many men conversant with the duties as switchmen, yard men, conductors, and the handling of trains as come along. The agent tells each applicant that the pay will be $65 to $75 a month. Competent yard bosses are in demand also. No promises are exacted about joining labor organization.

Nearly 500 Applications.

A telegram from New York says that up to noon yesterday the agent of the Chicago railways there "had received 498 applications of men who signified their willingness to accept situations as yard brakemen, switchmen or helpers 'away from New York.' The place has been open only a few days. The fact that similar agencies have been opened in other large eastern cities seems to indicate to the minds of labor men that the companies entering Chicago anticipate a big strike in the near future and that they are preparing to defeat any attempt to interrupt the roads."

THE STRIKE OF ENGINEERS.

Only Two Trains Moved on the Ann Arbor Line—World's Fair Troubles.

TOLEDO, March 10.—Two trains were the sum total of freight movement on the Toledo, Ann Arbor and Northern Michigan railroad yesterday. The first was sent out at 9:30 in the morning and the second reached here last night at 10:30. This latter had considerable freight for the Lake Shore and Wheeling and Lake Erie roads, which was promptly accepted by these lines. Passenger traffic is moving as usual. Chief Arthur has left town and is replaced by his assistant, A. B. Yongson. Meanwhile Chief Sargent is directing the firemen's end of the strike.

World's Fair Plasterers Strike.

CHICAGO, March 10.—Two hundred plasterers employed on the World's fair buildings struck yesterday. They were getting $4.50 for eight hours' work and demanded $5. The executive committee of the local board received a delegation of electric workers yesterday and listened to their demand for an increase from 31½ to 37½ cents per hour. The delegation claimed that 37½ cents was the minimum scale paid for the same class of work down town. The executive committee appointed a committee to make inquiries and agreed to pay the advance if the claims of the laboring men were found to be true.

Too Busy with Present Troubles.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., March 10.—The meeting of the different railroad organizations which was to have been held here yesterday and today for completing the business of the meeting held here in December has been indefinitely postponed. This action was found necessary on account of the strike of the engineers, and firemen on the Toledo Ann Arbor and Northern Michigan road, which requires the attention of the executive officers of those orders.

Not Ditched by Strikers.

TOLEDO, O., March 10.—The ditching of No. 4, the mail train, Wednesday night was not the work of strikers. The accident was caused by a washout.

Tanglefoot for Sale at Fairs.

MADISON, Wis., March 10.—The house has passed the bill permitting the sale of liquors on the grounds of agricultural societies. A bill to grant liquor dealers a single license authorizing them to sell either off or on their premises also passed, while licenses were lowered to $100 for townships of less than 500 inhabitants and $200 for those with more. A measure which sought to make hotel keepers responsible for deaths of guests caused by escaping gas was killed.

HAS MILLIONS IN WHEAT.

Provided What He Doesn't Expect Doesn't Happen.

CHICAGO, March 10.—According to a story published in an evening paper "Jim" Keene, the New York broker, stands to win or lose $10,000,000 in wheat on the Chicago board of trade. Keene has obtained control of about 20,000,000 bushels of the best wheat in western storehouses, the paper says, and has accumulated a prodigious line of futures. The story continues: The cash end of the deal is in charge of "Sandy" Eggleston and the speculative end is managed by John Cudahy, both masters in their specialties.

Cornered the Elevator Space.

Nearly all of the "contract" wheat in Chicago, amounting to about 10,000,000 bushels, is lodged with Eggleston, and nearly as much more high grade property in St. Louis, Minneapolis, Duluth and other western centers is controlled by the same individual. Besides his immense cash holdings in this city Eggleston has cornered about all the elevator space in Chicago that can by any possibility become available for the storage of new receipts between now and the end of May.

The Rock That May Wreck Him.

It has been charged here for a month or more that "Jack" Cudahy holds in seven commission houses 23,000,000 bushels of wheat for May delivery and he has kept the market in his grip for a long time. It is now discovered that 75 per cent. of the trapped short interest is represented by "hedges," and this is the rock upon which the Keene deal my split.

EX-OFFICERS TO BE PROSECUTED.

But No Legislative Investigation—Other Work of Illinois Solons.

SPRINGFIELD, March 10.—The resolution for an investigation of ex-auditors and ex-treasurers was debated long in the senate yesterday, a substitute being adopted instructing the attorney general to proceed with the prosecutions as ordered by Lieutenant Governor Gill, but declining to enter upon an investigation. The friends of Warren, of the Royal League, who was excluded from the floor Wednesday, tried to reconsider that action, but without success. The resolution placing the Alton military academy under state military inspection was adopted. Johnson has a new bill referring to insurance associations which contains no provisions offensive to the mutual societies.

Proceedings in the House.

In the house the attorney general's report in relation to the liability of ex-treasurers and auditors was referred. The bill giving cities power to operate their own electric light plants was read the first time. A bill was passed to give $18,000 to rebuild the foundry, etc., at the southern penitentiary. The hall of the house was asked by the labor organizations for a lecture next Monday and the request was granted. A bill was introduced to reduce the salaries of canal commissioners to $5 per day each day of actual employment.

OLD SOLDIERS IN MOTION.

They Propose to Fight the Existing Pension Laws.

NEW YORK, March 10.—A movement against the existing pension laws has been started among the old soldiers of this city. Wednesday night Noah L. Farnham post, G. A. R., after a long debate on the present pension system, adopted resolutions setting forth that the only veterans entitled to pensions are those who, by reason of wounds or disabilities incurred in the service of the country, are prevented from earning a living, and whose circumstances justify them in calling upon the country for support, and declaring that any old soldier or sailor who applies for or accepts a pension except under these conditions is guilty of conduct calculated to injure the good men who are willing to give their lives for their country without any reward save the approval of their own conscience and that honorable fame that is due to every patriot.

Legislation for Michigan.

LANSING, Mich., March 10.—The senate has passed the bill to permit railways incorporated under Michigan laws to consolidate with railways incorporated under the laws of an adjoining state. Both houses passed the bill providing for a state and county system of building good roads. The house passed joint resolutions to submit the following constitutional amendments to the people: Limiting the time for introduction of bills in the legislature to thirty-five days; establishing a state highway commission; fixing the salary of the lieutenant governor at $1,200 and the secretary of state, superintendent of public instruction, state treasurer, and commissioner of land office at $2,000 each.

To Secure Sunday Opening.

CHICAGO, March 10.—The endeavor to secure the opening of the World's fair on Sunday will be transferred from the state courts to the United States. An attempt will be made to get the United States supreme court to issue an injunction against restraining the opening of the gates. To do this the suit must be brought in the name of the state, and Attorney General Moloney has given his consent. The grounds of the complaint will be that the corporation is an Illinois one and congress had no power to make the obnoxious restriction.

Adjourned Without Electing.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 10.—The struggle is over in the state legislature. The dead-lock remained unbroken after 101 ballots had been taken and no United States senator has been chosen to represent the state at Washington, and it will have to be content with one representative in the senate until the legislature meets again unless Governor McGraw shall name a second senator.

To Increase the Capital Stock.

NEW YORK, March 10.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Edison Electric Illuminating company it was voted to increase the capital stock from $1,500,000 to $2,500,000. An extensive enlargement of the business is contemplated. There were 13,500 of the 16,000 shares represented at the meeting.

Death of the First Spiritualist.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Margaret Fox-Kane, who was known all over this country and Europe forty years ago as a spiritualistic medium, died Wednesday aged 59 years at the house of Mrs. Emily B. Ruggles. She was poor and entirely dependent on friends.

To Join the "Soo" and Canadian Pacific.

ST. PAUL, March 10.—A deal was completed yesterday for the immediate contruction of the western connecting link between the "Soo" and the Canadian Pacific. The link is 167 miles long, and is to be in operation by Aug. 1 next.

ALABAMA BRUTES.

Revivalist Mistaken for a Revenue Officer.

THE VICTIM SHAMEFULLY ABUSED.

Taken to the Woods, Stripped, Whipped, and Robbed—War Threatened with the Crow Indians in Montana—Alleged White Encroachments the Cause—An Indian Shot Dead as a Starter—Indictment Found Against Murderess Force at Atlanta.

GUIN, Ala., March 10.—Rev. D. A. Strutton, of Elmott, Tex., a noted evangelist of the Christian church, was robbed, stripped naked and flogged within an inch of his life Wednesday by moonshiners in Winston county, this state, who mistook him for a revenue agent. Dr. Strutton had just closed a series of revival meetings at Russellville, Ala., and was stopping over night at the house of a farmer named Burns, near Eldridge. After he had retired for the night a crowd of armed men on horsback called Burns out, and after talking with him for a while went into the house and commanded Dr. Strutton to get up.

Refused Offers of Identification.

They put a pistol in his face and told him to get out at once. He did so, and then they told him to follow them; after going about 200 yards from the house he asked if they were going to take him away; if so, to allow him to carry his valise. They returned and got his valise, at the same time examining the contents in order to ascertain if he was a detective. He told them what his business was and offered to go with them to the nearest telegraph office and telegraph to the governor of Texas in regard to himself and his business. The men refused the offer.

Kicked, Cursed and Robbed Him.

The brutes Kicked and cursed him and took from him his gold watch, gold-headed cane, all his money, his overcoat, dress-coat, hat and other articles of clothing, leaving him without a rag of clothes or money. They left his hymn book. The moonshiners then took the bridle reins from their horses and started to hang Dr. Strutton, but he begged so piteously for his life that they concluded, after a consultation, to release him after administering a flogging. After beating him until he could hardly stand the moonshiners began shooting between the doctor's legs and otherwise maltreating him.

Ordered to Leave the Country.

At last the leader of the gang told the others to let him go, and told him never to come back to that country spying. He left amid showers of bullets. The affair has created great excitement and indignation here, and strong efforts will be made to bring the moonshiners to justice. The citizens have appealed to Governor Jones to offer a reward for the desperadoes, and he will no doubt comply.

WAR WITH THE CROW INDIANS.

Trouble Over Encroachments Results in Bloodshed.

LAUREL, Mont., March 10.—Open warfare has broken out between the settlers on the newly opened portion of the Crow reservation and the Indians, and the wildest excitement exists at the new town of Wilsey and the country round about. Ranchmen around Wilsey are moving their wives and children to places of safety, and preparing to defend their claims with their lives, if necessary. The first bloodshed occurred yesterday morning, Little Face, a Crow Indian, being killed. The Indians claim that the whites are encroaching on Indian lands.

The Sudden Death of Little Face.

The Indians had driven a man named Henderson from his claim, but he returned with friends. Little Face told Henderson that he must leave or be scalped, and tried to shoot Henderson, who was too quick and shot the Indian through the heart. The Crows are making medicine and preparing for actual warfare. This is the first time the Crows have shown hostility to the whites. It is expected that two or three companies of United States regulars will be ordered to Wilsey as soon as the war department can be informed of the critical state of affairs.

Indictment Against Miss Force.

—The lemon tree at the Express office is blossoming and has green and ripening fruit upon it.

—Ernest Moore is the owner of the handsome new bicycle displayed in C. A. Lucas' store window.

Did you hear the band play? Now hear the orchestra tonight.

—D. J. Courtright, switchman in the Illinois Central yards, has moved to Chicago, and is in the employ of the C. & N. W. R'y.

—Young Phalen, who was brought before Justice W. W. Downing on a criminal charge yesterday, was held to the grand jury.

—The funeral of Mrs. Agnes R. Stitzel occurred last Wednesday afternoon at her residence in Nelson. The remains were interred in the cemetery north of Nelson. Mrs. Stitzel was the wife of Mr. John Stitzel, so well and favorably known by many throughout this and Whiteside county. Rev. Wm. H. Hartman, of this city, conducted the services. His sermon was based upon the 90th psalm, 10th verse. Mr. Stitzel and family have the heartfelt sympathy of their many friends.

—We see it stated that Congress adopted first a joint resolution providing that after April every member not the chairman of a committee shall be supplied with a clerk whose salary shall be paid out of the Treasury. The estimated cost of this luxury for the coming Congress is over $333,000. Half the members won't give employment to a clerk fifteen minutes during a day and not one will have enough work for a clerk to keep the young man awake one hour per day. It is a queer move in the line of "economy and reform."

—A case very similar to that of Miss Gridley, of Amboy, occurred at Freeport during a religious revival last week. During the exercises in the church on Thursday evening Miss Sadie Spielman, who had been somewhat wrought upon, stiffened out in her seat and was carried home in a partially, at least, unconscious state, and has since remained in an apparent doze, broken by brief intervals of sufficient consciousness to reply to a question. She has taken no solid food, and has with difficulty taken liquid nourishment.

—Governor McKinley's relations with Mr. Walker (the man who victimized him as an endorser) began when the former gentleman was a young and struggling lawyer. Mr. Walker at that time made advances of money to him to tide him over difficult places. The pecuniary debt was repaid; but Mr. McKinley always felt that he was still under an obligation to his friend for the kindness exhibited. Thus it may be seen that a noble man, as McKinley is, could easily be caught by such a friend (?) in any sort of an affair where money is involved.

—A cottage meeting will be held this evening at the residence of Jas. H. Todd, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

—Joseph Staples has at his home on East Second street a large, white, fierce looking bulldog which he calls "Cash." The reason for thus naming him would be quickly apparent from a visit to the yard. Joe is humane to a high degree, and although he wishes his dog to stay at home he desires that he shall have a proper amount of exercise. Joe is also a genius, and he stretches a wire between his dwelling and a woodshed which are about fifty feet apart. On the wire is a pully, and to this is attached a chain, a collar, and the dog. When Joe yells cash from the back door the dog comings from the woodshed across the yard reminds one of the cash system in our large dry goods establishments; for Joe may have got the idea from the Grand Detour ferry. At any rate the dog has the run of the yard and the neighbors feel when they think of the woodpile that he is tied loose.

—The indications are that Governor Altgeld is not to have perfectly smooth sailing, even among the men of his own party. In the legislature yesteday the bill to make an appropriation to rebuild the foundry and other buildings at the Chester penitentiary, destroyed by fire, came up for passage and was opposed by Representative Johnson of Whiteside, Carmody, O'Donnell and other democrats. This is significant for the reason that Gov. Altgeld had sent a special message to the legislature asking for action outlined in the bill. Then, the newly appointed Lutheran chaplain of the Joliet penitentiary, who proposes to run the religion of that institution on strictly sectarian lines, is in rebellion against the significant suggestion of the governor that it would appear best not to "reform" the prison affairs in that direction. He declares that he will pay no attention to the governor's proclamation. He has served notice on the state executive that he objects to being "dictated to;" that he is at the head of the religous department of the penitentiary and he proposes to run it as he sees fit.

The Value of Constancy.

"The constant drop of water
Wears away the hardest stone;
The constant gnaw of Towser
Masticates the toughest bone;
The constant cooing lover
Carries off the blushing maid;
And the constant advertiser
Is the one who gets the trade."

There is perhaps more truth than poetry in the whole of the above stanza. The truth of the last clause will be apparent to any one who will peruse the advertising columns of THE TELEGRAPH and then walk through the business streets of Dixon, and glance into the stores and business housee. He may be surprised to see (and yet there is nothing surprising in the fact that he will see) the purchasing public congregated at the counters of those firms who appreciate the power of advertising; while those who from mistaken ideas of economy fail to keep their business before the people in a fresh and attractive way, have plenty of time to wait on the few customers that pass their portals and count the occasional coins that drop into their money drawer. We would call the readers attention to another fact in this connection. Several business men have during the past two or three years come from distant towns and started in business here in Dixon, generally making a great flourish of window display or door talk but forgetting to advertise in THE TELEGRAPH and in each instance have "filled their tents like the Arabs" and quietly take their departure. They did not think it neccessary to advertise and there was their mistake THE EVENING TELEGRAPH goes into every family in Dixon where a newspaper is taken.

Dixon Loan and Building Association.

The 23rd Quarterly Statement of the Dixon Loan and Building Association is is before us and presents a most satisfactory condition of affairs.

During the past season the association has loaned upon Dixon realty the sum of $40,000, that sum being made up by twenty-five loans for new homes. And applications have already been filed for loans aggregating many thousands of dollars for buildings to be erected during the coming season.

The demands upon the Association for residence property will be so great during the next few years that the present monthly income will prove inadequate; to meet this the Directors have decided to issue stock to a greater extent than has been deemed advisable heretofore.

The stock of the Association is sold in series, and a new series opens on the first of the March, June, September and December of each year.

Fifty cents per month is paid upon each share subscribed for, and the number of shares that may be taken by one person is from one to one hundred.

By the quarterly statement just issued we see that an investor in the 1st series could withdraw his total payments together with 11% annual interest upon same.

The books are now open for subscription to the 24th series of stock at the Secretary's office in the Schuler Block and an opportunity is offered to secure a good rate of interest on your monthly savings, be they large or small.

College Items.

C. V. Kerch, graduate of the Engineering department of the N. I. N. S., has employment in the engineering department of the World's Fair, as draughtsman.

Prof. Strong has organized a mandolin club.

The Chapel orchestra consists of eleven pieces. It is the largest ever had here.

Mrs. Boucher's Elecution class gave a humorous recital this afternoon at half past one.

Teachers are closing their winter schools and as a result there are new arrivals at the College on almost every train. Judging from the present outlook, the next term will open with an exceedingly large attendance. The spring and summer sessions are growing in popularity.

The many friends of Prof. J. W. Collins, of White Hall, will be pleased to learn that he will be with us next term.

Four students from Dixon have entered school this week. It is surprising the local patronage the school has—an evidence of its great popularity.

THE SHIPMAN'S TALE.

Listen, my masters. I speak naught but truth.
From dawn to dawn they drifted on and on,
Not knowing whither or to what dark end.
Now the north froze them, now the hot south scorched.
Some called to God and found great comfort on;
Some smashed their teeth with curses, and some laughed
An empty laughter seeing that they lived,
So sweet was breath between their foolish lips.
Day after day the same relentless sun;
Night after night the same unpitying stars.
At intervals fierce lightnings tore the clouds,
Showing vast, hollow spaces, and the sleet
Hissed, and the torrents of the sky were loosed.
From time to time a hand relaxed its grip,
And some pale wretch slid down into the dark
With stifled moan, and transient horror seized
The rest who waited, knowing what must be.
At every turn strange shapes reached up and clutched
The whirling wreck, held on awhile, and then
Slipt back again into that blackness whence they came.
Ah, hapless folk, to be so tost and torn,
So racked by hunger, fever, fire and wave,
And swept at last into the nameless void—
Frail girls, strong men and mothers with their babes!

And were none saved?

My masters, not a soul!

Oh, shipman, woeful, woeful is thy tale!
Our hearts are heavy, and our eyes are dimmed.
What ship is this that suffered such ill fate?
What ship, my masters? Know ye not?—the World.

—Thomas Bailey Aldrich in Harper's.

Patents and What They Protect.

A business man in this city who is up to his ears in the work necessary to gather capital to float an enterprise, and at the same time to keep information of the nature of it away from busy rivals, found time last week to say: "Did you ever think that a patent does not patent in this country? Well, it's a fact. All that the patent office does is to give you a paper with some writing on it, but if another man steals your idea and goes to manufacturing your invention the patent office will not lift a finger to protect you or to stand by its own decision. The fact that you've got a patent is a point in your favor, but you've got to hire lawyers and fight the thief in the courts, and if he can stand it to hire lawyers longer than you can that settles you, and you might as well make him a present of your invention. There are lots of men in the country who are getting rich on the discoveries of other people. All they had to do was to take 'em and fight the real discoverers into poverty. The patent office, to be respected and to be of any use, ought to have the power to cause the stealer of a patent to be sent to prison."—New York Sun.

Scotch Reticence.

A Scotch laborer was dying. He had four little children. After lying silent for awhile he said he would like to see them, and the poor wife brought them to the bedside. All he did was to take each of the three elder children by the hand and to say, "Gude day."

Then he said to the youngest, a wee thing 2 years old, "Will ye gie me a bit kiss?"

The mother, lifting up the wondering child, said, "Say ta-ta to your father."

"Ta-ta," said the little boy in a loud, cheerful voice, and then ran out of the cottage to play. The poor father closed his eyes; the tears ran down his cheeks, but he said no more. The abundance of his heart choked his utterance. He was weary, too, and so gude day was his only word of parting.—"Twenty-five Years of St. Andrew's."

A Big Harvest For the Boys.

The heavy snowfalls brought calamity in a curious way to Chinese pheasants in the northwest. The sleet and snow stuck to their tails in such a manner that they were unable to fly, and mischievous boys seized the opportunity and captured the birds by dozens and sold them.

The roses that bloom in the spring,
tra la,
Have nothing to do with the case.
A rose and a nice suit of clothes,
tra la,
Adorn a beautiful face.
And that's what we mean when we say as we sing—
Ed. Cahill has the colors that's just the right thing.
And will fit you so slick
That you'll feel like to sing
The flowers that bloom in the spring,
tra la.

Mothers Recommends It.

The strongest recommedation that any article can have is the endorsement of the mothers of the town. When the mothers recommend it you may know that article has more than ordinary merit. Here is what the Centerville, South Dakoto, Citizen says editorially of an article sold in their town: "From personal experience we can say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has broken up bad colds for our childern. We are acquainted with many mothers in Centerville who would not be without it in the house for a good many times its cost, and are recommending it every day." 50 cent bottles for sale by W. D.
